

Zones of relevance

(using words from emotion and feelings sheet).

- Neatly write words in the smallest orange box (the one containing the picture) which you think are the most relevant to the themes of the story from the boy's perspective (point of view).
- In the green box write theme words which you think are relevant to the boy and the story but less important.
- In the outer purple box, write theme words that you feel do not match the boy's experiences in the story. Use words from the emotion and feeling sheet and more of your own.
